

Regional Transit Investment and Urban Productivity Spillovers

Leah Murray, Tomoko Ishikawa

Economics | November 7, 2024

Metropolitan Policy Lab

MPL Working Paper 24-07

Abstract

The paper evaluates whether transit expansion creates productivity gains beyond travel-time savings. The results show spillovers in dense labor markets through better matching efficiency and broader recruiting radii.

Prepared for The Insight research repository demo.